$577 Million Military Pay Bill Seems Likely

WASHINGTON (UP) — Early Senate approval of a $577-million-dollar military pay hike bill appeared likely today following its unanimous approval by the powerful Armed Services Committee.

In the words of Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.), a member of the committee which approved the measure Tuesday, the vote "certainly forecasts a happy voyage through the Senate."

A high Democratic source noted that major objections are seldom raised to Armed Service Committee recommendations.

The committee approved bill, stressing proficiency incentives for officers and enlisted men rather than length-of-service pay raises, was trimmed from the $63-million-dollar military pay bill approved by the House.

However, it is still above the most recent administration proposal for pay boost with a 512-million-dollar price tag.

The bill, designed to help attract and keep highly trained men in service, will give a pay boost of at least 6 per cent to all members of the armed services.

It would authorize pay increases as high as 33 per cent for top ranking officers and 41 per cent for top ranking enlisted men. Enlisted men with special skills could get as much as $150 a month more than their basic scale.

A major feature was a new item authorizing payment of "responsibility" pay to captains, majors, lieutenant colonels, colonels and their Navy counterparts who hold critical positions.

ITU Blamed for Increase in Strikes

NEW YORK (UP) — A special standing committee of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. reported Thursday night that the International Typographical Union was the cause of "an inordinate increase" in newspaper strikes last year, most of them in resistance to new mechanical production processes.

George N. Dale, of the ANPA staff, reporting for the committee, said increased costs have forced newspapers to adopt new and improved printing equipment and processes. The ITU, he said, has resisted these innovations and has carried on "jurisdictional aggression" against other unions.

He said that 18 ITU strikes last year forced 12 newspapers to continue publication without that union. He said the ITU international had in each instance ordered the local group to refuse arbitration.

"ITU has made it not possible to reconcile its objectives with opposing views of employers, other unions, the National Labor Relations Board or the courts," THE REPORT SAID.

The report said, however, that a record number of disputes—87—was settled by arbitration last year. It said 31 disputes had resulted in strikes of which 18 were called by the ITU.

Slavs Deny Try to Take Tito's Life

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (UP) — Yugoslav Communist Party officials today denied a Rome report that an assassination attempt was made on President Tito Thursday afternoon.

Officials described as "utter nonsense" a report by the Italian news agency Ansa that two guards were wounded during the attempt. "The report is completely unfounded," said Slobodan Kuzic, the chief Foreign Office representative to the congress.

The officials said Tito was present the entire day Thursday at Yugoslavia's seventh party congress and left with his wife Jovanka in the evening direct for his Ljubljana residence.

This morning Tito met with several congress delegates from other countries and may make a speech Saturday to the closing session of the Communist congress.

The fourth day of the party congress in which several government leaders have rejected Soviet interference in Yugoslav affairs began quietly with party committee's holding minor work sessions.

Current Tax Assessment Plan in Hempstead County Brings Statement From Judge Garrett

Hempstead County Judge U. G. Garrett Friday issued the following statement regarding the county tax assessment program:

"I have had telephone calls and personal contacts from quite a number of persons to inquire who is responsible for the Tax Program and the various Deputy Tax Assessors now appraising all property for tax purposes.

"In 1955 your Legislature passed a law that each county in the State of Arkansas must make a new and complete assessment and appraisal on all personal and real estate in each county by August 1, 1958, to bring all assessments up to 10 per cent of appraised value and if we fail to comply with the law, we will lose our State tax-back money, which will very likely cut our school terms from 9 to 7 months terms instead of 9 months.

"The Taxing Units of Hempstead County, which are 11 school districts, 1 city unit, 1 county unit, 1 road unit, 1 hospital unit and 1 library unit, are responsible for the program being carried out in our county, and not the County Officials, although it is their duty to assist the taxing units in carrying out the program.

The various school districts in the county have selected and employed the present Deputy Assessors who are carrying out the assessment program. Hear in mind that approximately 90 per cent of your tax dollar goes to your school district to help educate your children.

"Now as you know, it is not my wish to place a burden upon any one, and the only interest I have in this matter is for the welfare of our county and our schools, and the progress our county might make, for all of us would regret to see our schools reduced from 9 month terms to 7 month terms. However, it is not the duty of the County Judge to appraise and assess property.

Hoping that this will answer part of your questions, and if there is any part that you fail to understand, if you will contact me in some way I will try and explain it further to you."

The various school districts in the county have selected and employed the present Deputy Assessors who are carrying out the assessment program. Hear in mind that approximately 90 per cent of your tax dollar goes to your school district to help educate your children.

GOP Bill Drops All Arkansas Water Projects

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Republican Leader William Knowland of California today asked the Senate to pass a trimmed down water projects bill to meet the wishes of President Eisenhower.

The bill would eliminate some 28 projects including all Arkansas proposals which were in the measure vetoed by Eisenhower. The five projects included the Millwood Dam proposal for Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas, objected to the Knowland bill saying he wasn't going to "knuckle under or turn tail to someone in the Budget Bureau which has sold like the veto idea."

Employment in Arkansas Increases

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Employment Security Administrator J. L. Bland said Thursday that non-farm employment in Arkansas increased in March over the previous month and over March a year ago.

Bland's report said 4,500 more persons were employed in March than in February, and 3,000 more than in March 1957.

He placed total employment at 325,900, attributing the increase to hiring in the food, trade, service and construction industries.

"The lumber industry registered its first upswing in employment since July, 1957," Bland said.

Bland said employment conditions in Arkansas still did not present the brightest picture.

While the number of unemployed persons in mid-March was eight per cent less than mid-February, the figure was still 7 per cent above the 1957 level.

"Insured Arkansas unemployment declined from 29,398 at mid-February to 27,008 at mid-March, but remained above the count of 20,693 persons of a year ago," Bland said. He added that new claims representing new unemployment dropped 13 per cent from mid-February to mid-March.

Local Drive-in to Open With a Bang Tonight

That won't be a spunk flying across the skies of Hope tonight, and those loud explosions won't be an enemy attack, but just some of the big fireworks display which will herald the opening of Hope's Drive-in Movie season with the opening of the newly named and improved Dixie Drive-In Theater, which opens its annual season at 6:30.

Henry Seamans, local head of the theaters in Hope, states that due to the many improvements, chiefly the enlargement of the screen which now makes it possible for the drive-in to present pictures in Cinemascope for the first time, that even the name has been changed to the Dixie — which he feels is much more fitting than just calling it the Drive-In.

The Dixie drive-in has a reputation of being one of the nicest in every respect in the state. It's selling is perfect — the sound and projection is of the best — and the kiddies zoo and playground is the biggest you will find anywhere. Seamans invites folks out to the Dixie to have an early picnic with the family before the show — even pointing out there's space and facilities for a softball game if you wish.

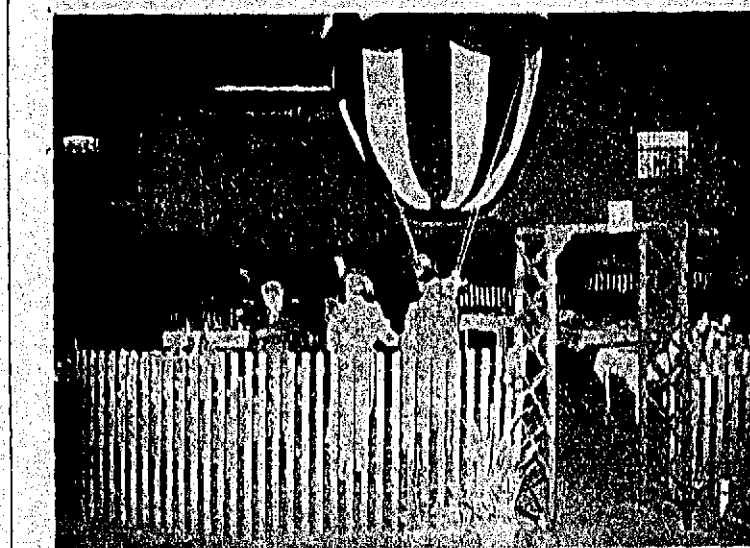

Opening screen attraction tonight features one of the biggest outdoor pictures in color ever made — "Gun Fight at O.K. Corral," starring Burl Lancaster and Kirk Douglas, and a huge cast. Cinemascope for the first time, that even the name has been changed to the Dixie — which he feels is much more fitting than just calling it the Drive-In.

The Dixie drive-in will be open on weekends only for the first month, offering big family attractions. As always, children will be admitted free — the snack bar will offer delicious sandwiches and other good things which are always better at the drive-in. Show starts tonight, Saturday and Sunday at 7:15 — but the fun starts at 8:30. Fireworks display will be staged at 8:45 tonight only.

So Hope tonight will welcome a newly named — Dixie Drive-In and weather permitting a large crowd will be on hand to welcome movies under the stars.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

A Science experiment being carried out by Doyette Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Collins, will be entered in competition in a statewide contest at Little Rock today. His experiment took first place last week at the district contest at Arkadelphia. The experiment has to do with the injection of chlorophyll into a couple of hampsters.

The Jaycee-sponsored Road-EO driving contest for youths will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at Child's parking lot. The winners will enter state competition for the best young driver. The state winner goes to the national meet.

Rain, accompanied by some hail and high winds, struck this area about midnight last night leaving 1.29 inches of moisture. Crossett appears to be worst hit in Arkansas, reporting 10 inches of rainfall. At least two highways in the area are closed to traffic as a result.

Dr. Herbert Rogers reminds that dogs will be vaccinated for rabies Saturday from 8 to 5 at the Elks Hall building for a charge of a dollar.

Local officers raided a night spot on North Hazel yesterday known generally as the Calvin Douglas place, seized 24 half pints of moonshine and six half pints of bonded whiskey and arrested J. D. Roach, Negro who operates the place.

Population Loss Means Money Loss

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — A 40,000 population loss in Arkansas last year may cost the state $135,000 in federal matching funds for hospital construction, the state health officer said Thursday.

Dr. J. T. Herron made the estimate at a meeting of the state Board of Health.

He said the exact amount of the loss would not be known until May or June when Congress finished appropriating money. There was no doubt in his mind, however, that the Hill-Burton funds would decrease between fiscal 1957-58 to fiscal 1958-59.

Dr. Herron said Arkansas received about $2,100,000 in Hill-Burton funds in 1957-58.

Prescott Man to Head Optometrists

Mrs. John Suggs of Fayetteville was elected president of the organization's women's auxiliary. Mrs. Jack Harrington of Hot Springs was elected first vice president. Mrs. John Miller of Brinkley is secretary-treasurer.

Bollweevil Control to Be Discussed

Control of boll weevils and aphids showing resistance to the insecticides used in this area complicates the cotton insect control program for 1958, says County Agent Oliver L. Adams, in announcing a cotton insect control planning meeting for Tuesday, April 29, at 10 o'clock.

This discussion and planning will take place in the Hempstead County courtroom with all cotton producers and other industry people invited.

Grover C. Davoll, University of Arkansas Extension Entomologist, will be in attendance to explain the details of the resistant type program.

County Agent Adams desires that cotton producers become thoroughly informed on the 1958 cotton insect control program early in the season. This meeting should provide much timely information that might prove as important as the season progresses. The personal precautions for the one handling the poisons is of particular importance.

High Water Is Made Worse by a 5 Inch Rain

CROSSETT (UP) — Flash floods fed by a five-inch rain forced the evacuation by motorboat early today of an estimated 100 families living in a heavily-populated area three miles north of here.

Ashley County Sheriff D. A. Courson, Jr., and his deputies assisted the stricken families, and other at nearby Hamburg.

R. Reynolds, in charge of the Forestry Experiment Station, said 5.00 inches of rain fell in a 13-hour period between 6 p. m. Thursday and 7 a. m. Friday. The downpour was accompanied by a severe electrical storm and some hail. Rain was still falling early today.

Officers said it was the inability of two small creeks — Brushy Bayou near Crossett, and May Branch at Hamburg — to carry off the water that caused the unprecedented floods.

Highway 82 north of here was flooded in the vicinity of the Galus Hotel, and near the airport. Highway 82 and highway 81 were flooded at their intersection, four miles south of Hamburg.

Dozens of automobiles drowned and several were reported submerged.

Several families near Hamburg waded out of their homes, and several stores and a restaurant were flooded.

Crossett schools were ordered closed today, since 65 per cent of the pupils are transported by school bus. The cafeteria of the Calhoun elementary school was flooded.

Mrs. Norma Johnson, who lives in the stricken area, said a neighbor's yard was "shoulder deep" in water early today, and the family awoke to find water a foot deep in their house.

Later in the morning, water was reported "window deep" around many of the houses in the flooded area.

Hamp Fugaar, who operates the State Police weight station at Hamburg, said the station was surrounded by a "sea of water." Fugaar lives at Crossett and commutes to Hamburg daily. He said it was the worst flood he had ever seen in the area.

Five Children Burn to Death at St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Five children burned to death and their mother was critically burned today when fire spread from a overheated coal stove and destroyed the home.

All of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Lee Washington died in the flames. They were tentatively identified as Paul, 8, Willie Ann, 7, Martha Fay, 5, Fred Lee, 3, and Jane Rebecca, 9 months.

The mother told St. Louis County Hospital authorities that the blaze apparently spread from a coal stove in which the father had built a wood fire. She said he left for work about 6 a. m.

She said she had the two youngest children with her when the fire awakened by smoke. Clutching the youngsters, she made her way into the living room in an attempt to reach the others but fire blocked the way.

She said she did not remember dropping the children but that a fireman pulled her through his bedroom window.

Firemen from Rock Hill and Brentwood failed to halt the flames which destroyed the south St. Louis County home. They recovered the bodies of four children and found the body of the fifth by sifting through the ashes.

Foreign Aid Bill Nears Completion

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee today neared completion of work on President Eisenhower's foreign aid program which it trimmed in a frank effort to avoid heavier slashes later.

The President asked $3,900,000,000 for overseas economic, military and technical aid in the coming year. In a series of votes Wednesday the committee trimmed a relatively small total of 339 million dollars from the major items. It was expected to complete action today on remaining sections.

Committee Chairman Thomas E. Morgan (D-Iowa) told newsmen the committee made the cuts to strengthen its position when it takes the bill to the floor within the next week or two.

Morgan said proposals for much larger cuts in the program were defeated by sizeable margins.

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The largest graduating class in the history of the University of Arkansas School of Medicine will receive diplomas June 8.

Dr. F. Douglas Lawason, medical provost at the school, said 69 seniors, a record number, are scheduled to receive degrees.

He said a report by the U.S. House interstate and foreign commerce committee showed the Arkansas school was tied for fourth in the number of newly-enrolled students compared to the state's population. He added the report showed the school was sixth among 26 states surveyed on the number of graduates who remained in their home state to practice medicine.

Dr. Lawason said the school has received, freely given at all times, talent, love, time and money. Part 3, "How We Should Give," by Mrs. Howard Reece. Give willingly and cheerfully from the heart. Part 4, "What We Should Give," by Mrs. Cecil Allen. We are bought with a price; therefore give thyself first, wholly into the Lord, then we are ready to give of our talent, substance, time and money.

The group sang "Give of Your Best to the Lord" with Mrs. Howard Reece as leader and Mrs. Troy Greenlee at the piano. A short business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Edward Evans. Mrs. Troy Greenlee dismissed the meeting with prayer.

The May program will be held in the home of Mrs. Carl Reece with Mrs. Everett Webb as co-hostess.

Mrs. Garrett served a delicious salad plate with cookies and punch to the group. Mrs. Earle McWilliams, reporter.

Doubts Need for Defense Revision

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Melvin Price (D-Ill.) today challenged the need for most of the administration's defense reorganization bill, describing it as "window dressing."

Price, a member of the House Armed Services Committee which called Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy for his third day of testimony this afternoon, said the administration had "gone overboard" in drafting the controversial bill.

McElroy, meanwhile, offered his congressional questioners some concessions. He said he wouldn't oppose removing a provision of the bill that would forbid members of the armed services to approach Congress when they disagreed with defense policy.

Existing law permits this if the members notify the defense secretary. McElroy said to his knowledge the privilege has never been exercised.

McElroy also said Wednesday he probably wouldn't oppose changing language of the bill to spell out all the combat functions of the individual services. A committee lawyer pointed out that as now written the bill might permit unified commanders to take over all the non-combat functions of units from the various services, giving the unified commanders "total command."

Price told the United Press two days of questioning McElroy "clearly developed" that the President and defense secretary already had most of the power they asked for.

"I think that the far-reaching recommendations of the President are merely window-dressing, because they already are in existing law," Price said.

News Briefs

NEW YORK (UP)—K. A. Engel, publisher of the Arkansas Democrat in Little Rock, Ark., was re-elected to a two-year term on the board of directors of the American Newspaper Publishers Association Thursday.

Engel's election came as the 72nd Annual ANPA convention closed.

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower told Congress Thursday that Arkansas received $1,200,000 in federal relief in 1957 for major disasters in storms and floods. The figure was a part of $21,833,548 distributed to states and territories.

BLATHEVILLE (UP)—Blatheville Air Force Base will be one of four airfields in four states from which 101st Airborne Division troops will take off for their mammoth airdrop exercise Saturday. Several congressmen have protested Saturday's seven-hour "Operation Air-Stream," because of Wednesday's tragic "Exercise Eagle Wing," which resulted in the deaths of five paratroopers and injuries to 37 others.

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus named Howard Eichenbaum of Little Rock a member of the State Board of Architects and appointed Dr. William P. Walker of El Dorado to the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

The main topic of discussion was a recreational program for the city including the building of a Youth Center. After discussion, it was voted that this building be constructed on the City Park property.

In an initial step, a special committee to make a survey of the entire community of Hope to draw every citizen into this project and make this long dreamed of thing a reality. The committee will be composed of a representative of every organization in the city and will be appointed at the next meeting.

Guest speakers were Mrs. F. M. Boone, State AP Agent, and T. A. Benton, State County Agent, both of Little Rock, who gave informative and encouraging remarks.

What Happened to Joe Judge?

By UNITED PRESS

Joe Judge was the "old reliable" at first base for the Washington Senators for 18 seasons.

Joe starred both at bat and in the field, topping .300 in 10 different seasons and leading the league's fielding first baseman eight different times. Joe was a member of Washington's first two pennant winners in 1924 and 1925, hitting .385 in the 1924 Series against the Giants to lead all batters in the seven games that year as Washington won. He moved to the Red Sox in 1934 for his final season.

Whatever happened to Joe Judge? Now 65, he still lives in Washington where he is in public relations work for a national brewer and, in the spring, coaches Georgetown University baseball.

Surprising Cubs Slam Dodgers, Top Nat'l Loop

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Lee Walls, a "lousy golfer," used the Los Angeles driving range to hit three perfect "nine-iron shots" that had the Dodgers plenty tired off today and the surprising Cubs sitting pretty atop the National League.

As a golfer, Walls shoots in the 100's, and as a hitter he totaled only six home runs and 33 runs and 33 runs batted in last season.

But the Cub outfielder really takes to that Coliseum "course," especially the friendly left-field green which is only 83 yards from home plate — an easy nine-iron shot for any pro. He liked it so much Thursday that he blasted three home runs over it and drove in eight runs in a runaway 15-2 victory over the Dodgers.

Walls didn't play any favorites, either. He socked his first homer off loser Don Drysdale with one on in the first inning; his second off Roger Craig with two on in the fifth, and his third off Ken Negray with one on in the seventh. Bobby Thomson also homered for the Cubs.

Rookie Gene Fodge shut out the Dodgers until Charley Neal hit a homer in the seventh. Don Zimmer also connected in the eighth.

What burns the Dodgers so much about that (censored) screen is that some joker told them it would work out to their advantage. It certainly hasn't so far. Opposing clubs have hit 14 homers at the Coliseum while the Dodgers have hit only nine. Three of those enemy clouts were off Drysdale, who dropped his third straight game Thursday.

Snider Plays Six
The only consolation the Dodgers had was that Duke Snider played six innings and got one hit in three trips. Snider had been lined a day's pay for spraining a tendon Wednesday night while trying to toss a baseball over the rim of the Coliseum.

In other National League games, Warren Spahn and Hank Aaron combined to lead the Braves to a 6-2 triumph over the Redlegs; the Giants came up with two runs in the ninth to beat the Cardinals, 6-5, and the Pirates defeated the Phillies, 7-4.

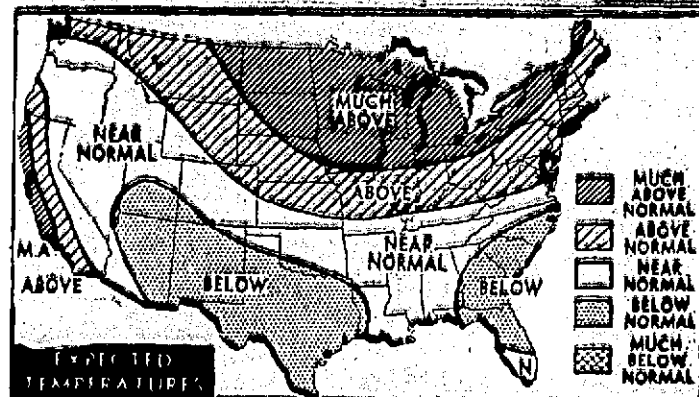

The Red Sox climbed out of the American League cellar with a 4-3 victory over the Orioles in 10 innings. Kansas City retained second place with a 7-2 decision over Detroit, and the Indians dumped the White Sox into the basement by beating them, 6-4. Rain postponed the Yankees' Senators game.

Spahn, who beat the Redlegs six games out of seven last year and holds a 46-15 lifetime edge over them, held Cincinnati to seven hits while Aaron connected for his third and fourth homers of the campaign. Brooks Lawrence yielded Milwaukee's first three runs and was charged with the loss.

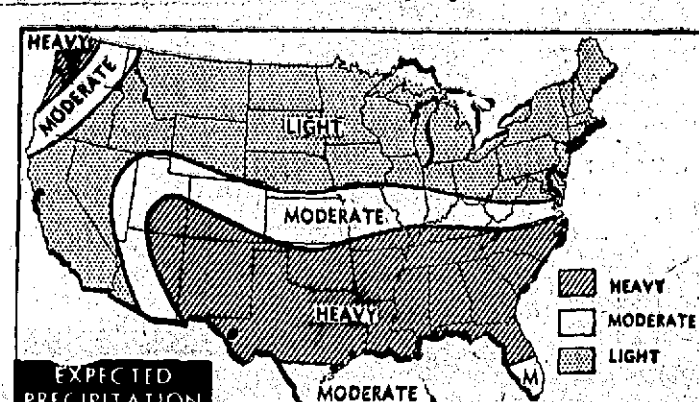

The Giants' won their game from the Cards when Daryl Spencer beat out an infield hit with the bases loaded in the ninth. Eric Giant Ray Kat had put St. Louis ahead with a homer off winner Ray Crone in the top of the ninth but Kelt's error allowed San Francisco to score the tying run in the bottom of the frame. Hank Sauer hit his fourth and fifth homers of the year off starter Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell but reliever Billy Muffett was the loser.

Bob Friend was credited with Pittsburgh's victory over Philadelphia although he needed Roy Face's help in the ninth. Friend blanked the Phils until the ninth when he ran into a pair of singles, a double, triple and Bob Bowman's two-run homer. Face came in served up one pitch which Harry Anderson hit back to him for the final out. Dick Groat and Bob Skinner each had three hits to account for half of Pittsburgh's 12th hit. Curt Simmons was the loser.

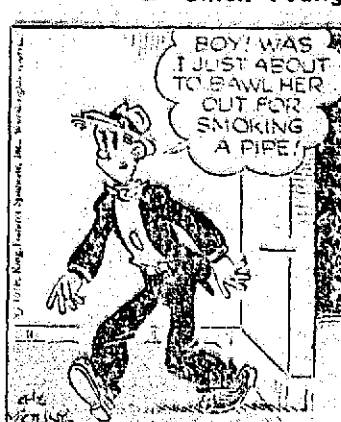

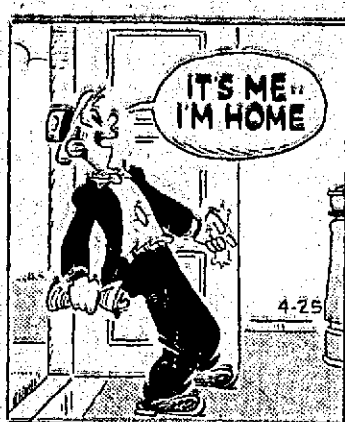

Pinch hitter Dick Gernert singled home Gene Stephens with the bases loaded in the 10th inning for Boston's win over Baltimore. Gernert struck his blow off Billy O'Dell, who took over the Orioles' pitching in the eighth inning. Albie Pomeroy gave up seven hits in Temperatures from now until mid-May are expected to average above seasonal normals over the northern half of the nation with greatest unseasonal warmth over the Great Lakes Region and Upper Mississippi Valley. Slightly below seasonal normal temperatures are expected to prevail over the southern third of the country except for above normal in California. Elsewhere near normal averages are in prospect.

Japs Get Angry Over Politeness

Two movie patrons who were quietly philosophical throughout the hour they were trapped together in a stuck theater elevator. But their blood ran fire when they got out and found that not one theater official had stayed around to apologize to them for their inconvenience.

They staged a sit-down strike in the manager's office until he was routed out of bed came back and said, politely, he was sorry.

Nearly one-half the families in the United States use instant credit.

Werner rode into Barkerville on Midnight and tied the animal to the end in front of the hardware store. The proprietor stepped up behind the counter at which Weber stopped.

Weber drew his Frontier Model from the waistband of his Levi's. "I want to get a holster for this, but I'd rather not have a new one."

The hardware man came up with a black leather cartridge belt to which was attached a low-slung holster. Leather thong dangled from the end of the holster.

Weber took the belt and buckled it about his waist. Slopping, he tied the thong about his thigh. He slipped the revolver into the holster, adjusted his belt, then made a smooth, quick movement. The revolver appeared in his hand.

The hardware man watched thoughtfully. "Maybe I ought to tell you that belonged to a fellow come through here a couple of years ago. A gunfighter. I gave the sheriff $2 for the holster after they buried him."

Weber took $5 from his pocket and laid it on the counter. "That do?"

"Yes, sir. And how about some shells?"

Peter Rawlins, moving toward their horses with Ord, the gunfighter, came to an abrupt halt as Weber approached.

"Making your report to your brother-in-law, Rawlins?" Weber asked loudly.

Rawlins gave him an angry scowl. "What are you talking about?"

"The rald you made last night on Lobo."

"You're going too far."

"I went a little far last night following your boys, heading them off and scaring the life out of them." Weber chuckled. "But I scared you when I put that bullet through your window."

"You!" cried Rawlins. "You had the nerve to do that?"

"Why not? Your gunfighters were out with the herd." Weber

FAYETTEVILLE (UP)—The Arkansas Historical Association will hold its annual meeting in Rogers May 2-3.

Walter L. Brown of Fayetteville, the group's secretary-treasurer, said a highlight of the meeting would be a picnic at Prairie Grove's Battlefield Park May 3.

FORT SMITH (UP)—A class of 34 Masons received the last of the fraternal order's 29 highest degrees today as the 61st annual reunion of Masonic bodies closed.

More than 1,000 Masons from North and West Arkansas came looked at Ord. Partridge sloping late today?"

"Weber," cried Rawlins, "you're a dead man!"

"How about it, Ord?"

A sudden ran through Ord. "Hold on a minute, Rawlins. I've seen this man before. I wasn't sure yesterday, but now—"

"Kill him!" screamed Rawlins. Ord looked as if he had become ill. "This man is Tom Fargo!"

The full significance of the name struck Rawlins. "Fargo?"

His roar became a croak and his head swiveled wildly toward the door of Denver's real estate office, where Denver was standing. "Mike! He's Tom Fargo!"

Denver had already heard Ord. He backed away, suddenly whirled and ran back into his office.

Rawlins, deserted by his brother-in-law, went completely to pieces. "I'm not going to fight you, Fargo. You're a killer!"

"So are you, Rawlins," taunted Weber, "only you do your shooting from the dark—and you pick on farmers. I'm no farmer and I'm calling you out to your face. You're a sneaking thief. You've been hiding behind your brother-in-law, rustling Lobo's beef."

"Hold on, Fargo," the gunfighter, Ord, suddenly said. "I don't want to fight you, but I'm working for him and—"

"Earn your pay, then!"

A jolting shock ran through the body of Ord, the gunfighter. He was a hired killer and it was his job to face other killers. He had heard of Tom Fargo for years, had vast respect for his reputation, but he was being challenged and if he wanted to remain a gunfighter he could not back down.

Pete Rawlins gave him the advantage. Rawlins, hysterical, suddenly cried out in sheer terror. Ord's hand streaked for his gun. He had a shade the head start on Tom Weber, but Weber's gun was out of his holster while Ord was still pulling on his own. And as Ord's gun cleared the leather, Weber's barked spitefully. "Th bullet hit Ord high in the chest. Rawlins, prodded beyond endurance, guessing that perhaps Weber's attention would remain on Ord, went wildly for his gun.

He never even drew it from the holster. Weber, whirling, sent a bullet crashing through Rawlins' head. Rawlins fell as though struck by an ax.

Weber looked to the door of Denver's office. His gun still in his hand, he started swiftly for the open door.

He was too late. An open window showed him how Mike Denver had fled, the instant he had heard of Tom Fargo. "Fargo," he heard a shade the head start on Tom Weber, but Weber's gun was out of his holster while Ord was still pulling on his own. And as Ord's gun cleared the leather, Weber's barked spitefully. "Th bullet hit Ord high in the chest. Rawlins, prodded beyond endurance, guessing that perhaps Weber's attention would remain on Ord, went wildly for his gun.

"It was a boast and a taunt and Weber made it deliberately. He wanted the people about him to hear it. It would spread like wildfire through Barkerville.
